

THE ULTIMATE GUIDE TO THE CITY'S FINEST

Orlando[®]

The City's Magazine

ORLANDO'S BEST LAWYERS

PHILIP M. ZYNE
Our Featured Lawyer

PHILIP M. ZYNE, P.A.

When Philip M. Zyne began his law career over 30 years ago, he set out with a specific goal in mind: "To provide the best solution for the client, not just what brings in the biggest fee for the attorney." Currently President of Philip M. Zyne, P.A., he has offices in Orlando, Miami, Tampa, and Heathrow, Florida.

A native of Miami, Zyne attended Loyola University in New Orleans. Law school at the University of Florida followed.

He chose Immigration and Nationality Law as a specialty because it encompasses many intriguing aspects of law; essential to the practice is the knowledge of immigration law, administrative law, appellate law, trial practice, criminal law, family law, corporate and business law, real estate law, tax law and social security law, among others.

In addition to representing multinational corporations in relocating vitally needed workers, Zyne helps "families and individuals who often lack the knowledge or means to obtain lawful status in the United States," he says.

A solution-oriented person, Zyne carefully listens to his clients' concerns, which may involve the length of time and possible costs associated with a case, as well as the best way to achieve the clients' goals. "I can usually provide all of these answers after a brief consultation," he explains.

Zyne is a past president of the American Immigration Lawyers Association South Florida Chapter and has appeared in such publications as The Best Lawyers in America, Law and Leading Attorneys in America and others. He helped to establish the Immigration Law program at St. Thomas University in South Florida, where he served as an adjunct professor of law for many years.

Zyne has appeared as an expert witness in state, federal, and administrative law proceedings. Fluent in Spanish, he assists numerous charitable organizations in providing immigration assistance and has written and published 16 immigration law self-help manuals. He is Florida Bar Board Certified in Immigration and Naturalization Law.

As the president and chief executive officer of ImmigrationLinks.com, one of the premiere immigration websites on the Internet, Zyne provides expert input on news, information and all legal aspects of U.S. Immigration Law.

Married to wife Nora for 29 years, Zyne has a 24-year old son, Richard, and 22-year old daughter, Tatiana.

Philip M. Zyne, P.A.

1800 Pembroke Drive, #300

Orlando, FL 32810

Phone: 407-833-8951

Fax: 407-833-8952

pmzpa@aol.com

the DistinctionSeries